BOARD MAKES MILLER HEAD

MARYVILLE MAN NOW PRESIDENT OF S. T. C. REGENTS.

ELECTION YESTERDAY

Choice Fulfills Prediction Generally Made.—Succeeds W. F. Phares, Who Resigned.

Dr. Jesse Miller of Maryville was elected president of the State Teachers College Board of Regents at a special meeting yesterday afternoon at the Hotel Robidoux, St. Joseph. Dr. Miller succeeds W. F. Phares, who recently resigned from the board.

The election was no surprise as it had been generally predicted that Dr. Miller would be made president.

Five members were present at the special meeting yesterday, which was called at 2 o'clock. They were: Miss Laura Schmitz, Chillicothe; B. G. Voorhees, St. Joseph; Charlies A. Lee, state superintendent of schools; G. J. Stevenson, Tarkio; and Dr. Miller. Uel W. Lamkin, president of the College, and W. A. Rickenbrode, registrar, also attended the meeting. Mr. Rickenbrode is secretary of the regents.

Several matters of routine nature were considered by the board and bills were allowed.

The new president of the board of regents is well known in this part of the country. For a number of years he has been actively engaged in civic activities of Maryville. He is now president of the Maryville Country Club and last year was president of the Maryville Chamber of Commerce.

Dr. Miller served one term in the Missouri Legislature, representing Nodaway County in the state house of representatives, in 1921.

He was appointed to the College board of regents several weeks ago, when business matters caused Mr. Phares to resign.

Dr. Miller, Mr. Lamkin, and Mr. Rickenbrode returned to Maryville about 6 o'clock last night.

Bids to Be Received on M. F. A. Warehouse

Building to Be Erected Here by Farmers' Produce Marketing Association to Cost About $6,000.

John Gex of Graham and C. A. Tiffany of Maryville left today for Chillicothe, where they will attend a meeting of the directors of the Missouri Farmers Association of the northwest part of the state for the purpose of receiving bids for the building of a new warehouse in Maryville. The plans called for a building about 50 by 80 feet in size and it expected the probable cost will be from $5,000 to $6,000. The warehouse will be built near the Wabash tracks at seventh street.

Produce sold through M. F. A. channels from the northwest part of Missouri is being received here now in the Keeler building on North Main street. The new warehouse building here is being financed by selling stock in a company which will manage not only the Maryville plant but a cold storage plant at Trenton, an assembling plant at Salisbury, an assembling plant at Albany, and the one here, in addition to the central plant at Chillicothe.

It is expected that in time the association will build a storage plant here.

Jack Greeson the Youngest Recorder

Winner Over Mrs. Mamie Clardy Is 22 Years Old.—His First Vote Cast Tuesday.

Jack W. Greeson, who was elected recorder of deeds of this county at the election Tuesday, will be probably the youngest official ever to hold this office. Greeson was 22 years old on Sept. 14, 1926. He is a native of Nodaway County, having been born seven miles southwest of Maryville. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. George Greeson of Maryville.

Greeson had the opportunity of voting for himself with the first ballot he cast at a general election, as his vote at Tuesday's election was his first.

Greeson also will be the youngest official in the courthouse after January 1.

And with the retirement of Mrs. Mamie Clardy, who was defeated by Greeson, the courthouse will only contain one woman official, she being Mrs. Bess Thorp, treasurer. Mrs. Thorp's term will not expire until 1928.

Bartles Case Argued Before Special Judge

Fielding P. Stapleton, Albany Attorney, To Decide Suit Involving A Sale In Partition.

A session of circuit court was held today with Fielding P. Stapleton of Albany sitting as special judge. The case of Eva L. Bartles by next friend, C. F. McCaffrey, against Ozella C. Bartles, et al, an equity matter, was argued before Judge Stapleton. The case is to set aside a sale in partition and is complicated by several deeds of trust.

Four groups of attorneys are taking part in the legal argument. McCaffrey and Cook representing the plaintiff; Cook and Cummins the Gillam-Jackson Loan and Trust Co., and the National Life Insurance Co.; A. F. Harvey the curator, Albert Wilson; and Frank Petree of Oregon the Mutual Benefit Life Insurance Co.

TO FIGHT FOR COUNTY TITLE

OUTDOOR BASKETBALL TEAMS IN TOURNAMENT SATURDAY.

PAIRINGS IN SECRET

Contestants Will Know Time to Play But Not Opponent. —Loving Cups And Basketballs as Prizes.

Football will yield the center of the sport stage temporarily here Saturday, when the high school basketball teams which took part in the recent outdoor schedule will come to Maryville to battle for county supremacy on the Maryville High School indoor court.

All the teams which participated in the outdoor schedule, both boys and girls, are eligible for the tournament here.

Hugh Graham, of the Maryville High School faculty, will be the general manager of the tournament. He and County Superintendent Leslie G. Somerville will make the drawing to pair the teams for the first round, but they will not announce the results. The contestants will be notified of the time they are to play but will not know who the opponents are to be. This is to prevent the weaker teams from getting "cold feet" and refusing to come because the drawings have linked them with a supposedly stronger team.

J. R. Hann of Burlington Junction will referee the boys' games, and Sam Dubin of Bedford will officiate in the girls' section.

Silver loving cups will be given the winning boys and the winning girls team, and basketballs will be given the runners-up in each division. Gold basketball emblems are to be awarded the members of mythical all-star boys and girls teams to be selected by vote of the coaches.

CONTRACT TO OREGON MAN

AWARDED WORK ON MARYVILLE-RAVENWOOD ROAD.

Two small bridges are also included in the projects.

Morris bid called for a 2 per cent discount provided he was awarded both projects.

Annual Walk-Out Day Is Held at College

Students Unceremoniously Leave Classes and Join for Holiday of Big "Feed" and Show.

The State Teachers College student body walked out this morning. To those who have lived in Maryville for the last ten years, the annual walk-out needs no explanation. To those who are new here, it may be said that one day each fall the bell at the College rings at 8:05 o'clock, and the students unceremoniously leave their classes and play for the day.

There have been rumors of the walk-out for some time. One student said that the day has been set seven times but something has always interferred. But today the conditions were good and out they went.

After a parade down to the business district, the students hastened to the Missouri Theatre, where a special showing of the picture, "Men of Steel," had been arranged. Following this pieture, the students gathered in front of the courthouse and held an impromptu mass meeting in behalf of the football game of tomorrow afternoon against the St. Benedicts College eleven here. Following the meeting there was an outdoor demonstration.

Lunch was served in the old women's gymnasium at the College, and following this there was a dance.

In the past, weather permitting, the walk-out has progressed to some outlying place, where a picnic was held. It was considered a little chilly today. Hence the new program.

The walk-out today was conducted in a serious manner. Many students who would not have participated otherwise were "persuaded" to do so by a band of boys who lingered at the College after the main body had left. The affair was financed by the sale of tickets.

And so it was a success, financially and otherwise.

Grand Jury Again in Session Today

May Conclude Deliberations, Report and Be Discharged This Afternoon, It Is Said.

The grand jury, which took an adjournment on Oct. 15, resumed its deliberations today. Several witnesses from various parts of the county were examined today.

At press time this afternoon it was thought the grand jury would conclude its session late today, would make its report and be finally discharged.

The subject of the jury's investigation today was not divulged.

56 Absentee Ballots Sent to Clerk Here

Fifty-six absentee ballots had been received this afternoon by Fred Smith, county clerk, from voters who live in this county but who voted elsewhere in this state on election day. Several more are expected to be received tonight and in the morning. They will be received up to noon tomorrow.

About 100 at Dinner Given by Men's Class

Held In Dining Room Of First Christian Church—Men Entertain Women.

About one hundred men and women attended the dinner in the dining room of the First Christian Church last night given by the members of the Men's Bible Class in honor of the members of the Berean Circle. The men were defeated by the women in a recent contest. The committee in charge of the dinner included P. R. Moore, Ernest Moore and A. K. Frank. They were assisted by several others. Music was furnished by the Simmons orchestra. John G. Mutz led the community singing and a short talk was made by the Rev. R. E. Musgrave, teacher of the Men's class.

RAISING NEW DEFENSE FUND

MRS. McPHERSON WANTS ANOTHER $100,000.

WANTS SPEEDY TRIAL

Evangelist "Rejoices At Opportunity" To Have Her Case Before Jury —Bail At $2,500.

Los Angeles, Nov. 4.—Facing trial by a jury on charges of perjury and conspiracy, Aimee Semple McPherson today launched a drive for a second "fight the devil" defense fund.

The evangelist expects to raise an additional $100,000 to fight the accusations against herself and mother, Mrs. Minnie Kennedy during the preliminary hearing.

A total of $25,000 has already been raised on the second fund, Mrs. McPherson told the United Press today.

The evangelist declared she was rejoicing at the opportunity to have her case before a jury.

Mrs. McPherson and her mother will be held under $2,500 bail each until the trial begins. Under the law, the defendants have a right to demand a trial withing sixty days and the evangelist declares she will insist that the proceedings will get under way as soon as possible.

An additional charge of subordination of perjury has been added by District Attorney Keyes to the accusations of perjury and conspiracy to commit perjury contained in the original complaint against the evangelist.

Mrs. Lorraine Wiseman, third co-defendant and star state witness, will be tried jointly by the revivalist and her mother. Mrs. Wiseman, however, plans to plead guilty and she will ask for her freedom for turning state's evidence.

Penalty for conviction is from one to fourteen years in prison on each of the three counts or total possible sentences of from three to forty-two years.

Democrats to Ask Recount in Indiana

Indianapolis, Nov. 4.—Democratic leaders today announced they would demand a recount of votes for United States Senator in three Indiana counties as Republicans gained ground in the unusually close race for Indiana's two seats in the upper house.

PLANNING FOR SEAT BATTLE

SENATE LEADERS MOVE AGAINST VARE AND SMITH.

NEITHER WILL GIVE UP

"Irregular" Republicans Seeking Way To Prevent Seating Pending Investigation of Cases.

Washington, Nov. 4.—Preparations for one of the greatest tugs of war the Senate has ever known were being made today.

One Senate group aims to unseat William S. Vare of Pennsylvania and Frank L. Smith of Illinois, elected as Senators in Tuesday's election.

Only failure of the two to present credentials can prevent a historic unseating battle overshadowing the famous Newberry case—and neither men entertain the slightest idea of forfeiting his claim to a seat.

"Irregular" Republican Senators are seeking a loophole whereby their seating will be delayed pending consideration of their cases.

The vote on the question of disqualifying them as unfit to be United States Senators would then be attempted. The Constitution gives the Senate authority to determine the fitness of its members to their seats.

Senate precedent holds that if proper election credentials are presented, the elected men must be seated and that any investigation must be conducted afterwards with a vote on unseating as the culmination of the proceedings.

The motion to unseat Newberry lost by a close markin but he resigned after a resolution characterized $195,000 as too heavy a primary campaign expenditure.

The plan to bar Vare, for whom about $600,000 was spent in Pennsylvania's famous "three-million-dollar primary," and Smith, who was nominated with an expenditure of about $600,000, is expected to be based upon evidence unearthed by Senator Reed's slush fund investigating committee.

The anti-Smith and anti-Vare men are expected to contend nothing is necessary except to consider the Reed evidence and vote upon the fitness of the two men.

This strategy would eliminate a committee hearing to gather evidence. A two-thirds vote is needed for unseating.

Coal Oil Lamps to Light New Infirmary

Electric Current Cannot Be Furnished Until After First of Year, County Court Decides.

Coal oil lamps will have to serve the new county infirmary until after the first of the year, it was decided yesterday by the County Court.

The court has been unable to decide whether to install a generating plant for electricity or to co-operate with farmers along the road in building a power line from Maryville to carry current from the Maryville Electric Light and Power Co. The delay will permit a more satisfactory solution of this program, the county judges believe.

It was found also that the county's funds, with the severe drain upon them in the last weeks, are becoming seriously depleted, and the court thought it best to delay installation of lights in the infirmary until after the taxes now being collected have been turned in.

The court appointed P. R. Growney as justice of the peace for Jefferson Township. A vacancy has existed there for some time, the justice elected having declined to qualify.

The court also approved the appointment of Jake Morton as constable for Green township and of Lucius Slagle as constable for Jackson township.

The assessment of Paul Swinford, in Nodaway township, was reduced $1,000.

Modern Life Shortens Living, Yale Man Says

Davis Loses His Suit Against K. C. Paper

Federal Judge Pollock Finds For Journal-Post And Costs Are Assessed Against Plaintiff.

Kansas City, Nov. 4.—Jonathan M. Davis, former governor of Kansas, lost his five-million-dollar libel suit against the Kansas City Journal-Post, it was revealed today.

Federal Judge John C. Pollock rendered a verdict in favor of the defendants and assessed the cost of the case against Davis.

The libel action was the result of a story published in the Journal-Post giving the details of the alleged sale of pardons by Davis when he was governor. Davis was tried and acquitted later on charges of bribery in connection with the issuance of pardons and paroles to prisoners.

MAY ABANDON ENGLISH CASE

COOLIDGE ACCEPTS JUDGE'S RESIGNATION.

SENATE MEETS NOV. 11

Could Proceed With Impeachment, But It Is Believed Charges Against Jurist Will Be Dropped.

Washington, Nov. 4. — President Coolidge today accepted the resignation of Federal Judge George W. English of the eastern Illinois district, who was scheduled to face impeachment proceedings in the Senate next week.

The Senate will meet November 10 as scheduled, despite Judge English's resignation but it is probable the charges will be dropped in view of his resignation, Senator Norris, Republican of Nebraska, acting chairman of the judiciary committee, said.

Judge English could still be legally tried on the impeachment charges but it has been customary in the past when a defendant officer in such a case resigned to abandon the trial.

The Senate, when it meets, may dismiss the English case and then proceed to regular business, Norris said.

The impeachment charges were brought against English the session before last by Senator-elect Harry B. Hawes of Missouri. Extensive hearings were conducted by a special subcommittee of the judiciary committee during the recess of the first session and the present Congress, particularly after the House convened last December. The judiciary committee submitted a report to the House containing five articles of impeachment, including a score or more of charges of alleged misconduct in office by English.

G. O. P. Loses Few Seats in Legislature

On Face Of Incomplete Returns Over Missouri, Republicans Have Majority of Four.

St. Louis, Nov. 4.—The Republicans lost a few seats in the Missouri house of representatives in Tuesday's election: The Democrats elected ten state senators while the Republicans obtained state senatorial seats for six of their party nominees, it was indicated on the unofficial returns. One district, the fourteenth, was undecided.

In the house, with returns from fifty-four counties complete and forty-four incomplete, sixty-nine Republicans and sixty-five Democrats were elected or leading their opponents.

Of the 16 counties unreported, seven were represented in the last legislature by Republicans and nine by Democrats. If there were no upturns in these counties and all the candidates now leading were elected, the next house would be composed of 76 Republicans and 74 Democrats. The last house was composed of 79 Republicans and 71 Democrats.

OTTO HOLDS A SLIGHT LEAD

AHEAD OF GANTT BY ONLY 73 VOTES.

149 PRECINCTS ARE OUT

All County Votes To Be Rechecked— Hawes Will Win By More Than 35,000.

St. Louis, Nov. 4.—Harry B. Hawes, Democrat, won the Missouri Senatorial election from Senator George H. Williams, Republican, by more than 35,000 votes, tabulations showed today.

With about 200 precincts yet to be heard from, the vote stood: Hawes, 491,073; Williams, 458,130.

Charles A. Lee, Democrat, apparently has been re-elected state superintendent of schools over W. S. Smith by a majority of more than 12,000 votes.

Judge Robert W. Otto, Republican, continued to hold a very narrow margin over Circuit Judge Ernest Gantt, Democrat, in their race for judge of the Missouri Supreme Court. Returns from 3,965 precincts gave Otto a majority of seventy-three votes. The vote stood: Otto, 476,344; Gantt, 476,271.

The precincts remaining to report—149—are scattered throughout the state and there was little way to tell what strength they would show. Several of the precincts are in Southwest Missouri, where the vote is considered normally Republican.

E. C. Curfman, chairman of the Republican county committee, and C. F. McCaffrey, chairman of the Democratic county committee, received messages today from their respective states headquarters to have a representative present at the canvass of the vote tomorrow by the county court to watch the Gantt-Otto vote.

This race is so close that neither candidate would claim victory and it appeared probable the result would not be definitely determined before the official canvass in all of the counties of the state Friday.

McMullen Elected in Nebraska

Has Lead of About 3,000 Over Charles W. Bryan—Democrats Say It Will Take Official Vote.

Omaha, Neb., Nov. 4.—Governor Adam McMullen, Republican, was apparently re-elected but he was maintaining one of the smallest leads in history of Nebraska over his gubernatorial opponent, Charles W. Bryan. McMullen's lead was about 3,000.

Chairman T. S. Allen of the Democratic committee was admitting a lead of only a thousand votes for Governor McMullen and Chairman Harry Sackett of the Republican committee declared McMullen will be re-elected by a majority of 10,000.

Allen insisted that it will be necessary to count the mail vote in the state before the contest finally will be settled. Allen's predictions were based upon corrected totals from various counties from county officials.

WASHINGTON LETTER

By C. P. STEWART
NEA Service Writer.

Washington—We don't sell enough of our farm surplus in the Far East, in the opinion of the Department of Agriculture.

The department soon will send Paul C. Nyhus, former Wisconsin crop statistician, to investigate Chinese and Japanese markets for our agricultural products and then come back and report to American farmers.

In historical times China's population always has been so large that it could produce barely enough to feed itself.

It needed to import foodstuffs to supplement the domestic supply, but it was too poor to pay for them. Whenever it had a crop failure there would be a famine, and tens of thousands would starve to death.

The average Chinaman's income is wretched even today, but it's larger than it was and he can buy more things with it.

He can keep himself clothed, for example.

He can't afford all-wool socks and underwear, but he can afford cotton, and that's where the Agriculture Department comes in.

The Chinaman has developed a taste for "tailor-made" cigarets, which is of interest to American tobacco growers. This country sold less than a billion cigarets in China in 1913 but last year it sold five and a half billions.

The Chinese are eating more, too. They bought more American wheat in 1923-4 than the English did.

After experimenting for centuries on the best way to fix their hair, the women have decided to cut it off.

Mussolini says he isn't interested in Channel swimming. Of course not. He wants to swim the Mediterranean.

Congratulations of Williams to Hawes

Senator-Elect Hawes Issued Statement —Grateful To Republicans Voting For Him.

St. Louis, Nov. 4.—Senator George H. Williams sent the following congratulatory letter to Senator-elect Hawes:

Hon. Harry B. Hawes,
St. Louis, Mo.

My Dear Mr. Hawes:

Mrs. Williams and I extend our congratulations and good wishes to you and Mrs. Hawes for your election to the Senate.

Yours very sincerely,
GEORGE H. WILLIAMS.

Commenting upon his defeat, Senator Williams said:

"Personally I feel a sense of great relief. Politically there are many things that might be said. My only burden is the sense of gratitude I feel toward my good friends all over the State."

Statement Of Hawes.

Senator-elect Hawes issued this statement:

"My thought this morning is one of deep gratitude to my many friends. I anticipated the vote outside of St. Louis but to have received a majority in my home city is a source of particular pride to myself and family. This support seemed to come from every walk of life and for the first time makes me feel that public service is worth while.

"The responsibility of the new office weighs heavily, as I fully realize my many limitations. I wish I could thank every man and woman personally. The campaign so far as I am concerned has left no animosities or bitterness toward any one.

"I am particularly grateful to those Republicans who crossed the party line at some considerable sacrifice to them selves. I can never repay personally the obligations under which I have been placed by such universal kindness and can only hope my public service will be of a character which will sustain the confidence my many friends have reposed in me."

A CIGARETTE MADE WITH P.A. IS THE MONEY

THAT very first pull will tell you that no other tobacco is like Prince Albert for home-rolled cigarettes. How cool and refreshing it is, like a shower-bath after fast exercise. How sweet and mild it is, without sacrificing that "body" experienced smokers demand.

Never has a home-rolled cigarette tasted like that before, unless it was made with this same wonderful tobacco—good old Prince Albert. You'll like the way P. A. rolls too. It's crimp-cut and stays put in the paper as you roll it—doesn't blow away.

When you open the tidy red tin and drink-in that fragrance of real tobacco, you know in advance you are going to make the finest cigarettes you ever rolled. One right after the other—that's the way you'll roll 'em and smoke 'em with this better tobacco.

Prince Albert is equally delightful in the bowl of a pipe. It doesn't bite the tongue or parch the throat, no matter how often you load up and light up. Home-rolled cigarette, or pipe, or both, P. A. is the money. Get yourself some Prince Albert today and see!

P. A. is sold everywhere. And always with every bit of bite and parch removed by the Prince Albert process.

J. W. Griest Is Well Known as Authority

He Will Deliver Address At C. of C Dinner At First M. E. Church Here Monday.

J. W. Griest, manager of the Retail Merchants Institute, who will address a meeting of local retailers and salespeople at the First M. E. Church Monday night under the auspices of the Chamber of Commerce, is nationally known among commercial organizations as a source of definite information and constructive help. The services of the institution he represents have won the endorsement of state and national associations. Its primary aim is to assit directly local retail merchants in planning trade extension and constructive community work. In addition to this, short, intensive courses are given in salesmanship, personal efficiency, advertising, business management and control, and kindred allied subjects.

In Mr. Griest is found the rare combination of successful business training and marked public speaking ability. During the years of his extensive travel in forty states and eight provinces of Canada, he has gathered a vast amount of vital information for those who want to enlarge their individual business and develop the community in which they live.

The Lancaster, Pa. Advertisers Club says this of Mr. Griest: "His talk here excited extraordinary comment among all our business men, including manufacturers, brokers, bankers and automobile salesmen, as well as retailers. From the large numbers of expressions of approval we have reason to believe that his message reached, with telling force, into every classification of our membership."

Two hundred or more Maryville men and women who will hear Mr. Griest Monday night will enjoy a treat they will long remember. Those who fail to attend this meeting will have frequent occasion to regret it. Tickets are now on sale and can be secured until noon Saturday.

This and That

"Here lies the remains of a radio fan—

He went to a powder mill, smoking his pipe,
And was picked up by twenty-one stations."

Mr. John K. Sawyers has received word that his sons, John K. Sawyers, jr., and Henry Sawyers, attended the football game between the University of Missouri and the University of West Virginia last week when Missouri won 27 to 0. According to Mr. Sawyers the boys got "a big thrill," seeing a team from their home state win.

Friends of Mrs. Hal Hooker were more than pleased to see that she was able to attend the bazaar at the Presbyterian Church today after a long illness.

In recent years, the name Fred seems to have been quite popular for those filling the office of county clerk. There was Fred Yeomens, who served for four years, then Fred Smith, who has been holding the office for the last eight years, and Fred Wright who is the county clerk-elect.

Debate Is Held by the Demosthenean

A debate on Sunday movies featured the meeting of the Demosthenean Literary Society at the High School yesterday. Robert Carlson, Sam Albright and Bruce Rogers took the affirmative of the question, while the negative side was argued by Herbert Swanson, Buster King, Alfred Hiatt and Donald Logan.

Jokes were told by Donald Logan and Elwood Williams, and there was the usual business meeting. Twenty-one members were present.

Weather Favorable in North Missouri

Rain in Southern Third of State Hinders Farm Work, but Elsewhere Conditions Are Good.

Further rain in the southeast quarter and most of the southern third of Missouri caused further interruption to wheat seeding, cotton picking, and apple gathering. Otherwise the weather was generally favorable for the usual farm work, according to the weather bureau's weather and crop summary for Missouri for the week ending Tuesday morning.

The first half of the week was mild, with temperatures ranging well into the 70's on the 27th; the latter part was somewhat colder than normal, terminating with a general freeze Monday night. There was no damage as the staple crops had matured, except about a fourth of the Ozark apple crop was still unpicked.

The bulk of the wheat crop has been sown. Much of the recently seeded ground was wet and consequently roughly prepared, especially where corn was cut to make way for the wheat. About half of the crop is up and looking fine, while the earliest sown covers the ground.

Corn continued to dry out fairly well; some lowland fields still show many water puddles. Husking has started well but there has been little cribbing. Rains hindered cotton picking; about one-half of the crop has been picked. Pastures everywhere are exceptionally good for the season.

Many Requests for Hot Lunch Advice

Local Health Office Has Several Plans To Offer On School Meals.

Requests are coming in from all parts of this state and from other states for information regarding the serving of hot lunches in the school, Dr. C. P. Fryer, county health official, said today. Only yesterday inquiries were received from Abie, Nebraska, Princeton and Newton, Mo., along with several from near-by towns and rural districts.

The county health officer has worked out various data on the subject and has simplified lunch serving in the schools. One method which is the most simple requires only a cold pack frame. Each student brings one dish or rather, one pint jar containing his food. Then these jars are heated in the cold pack frame and thus the students receive one hot dish at their noon meal.

A second method requires a lay-out costing $18. This includes cooking utensils and the necessary equipment for serving a hot dish to the students prepared at the school.

"The hot lunch system is most satisfactory," Doctor Fryer said, "but it is just like housework, some women manage well and others do not."

Various booklets and charts are sent to those requesting information.

David White, eight miles west of Maryville, was taken to Red Oak, Ia., today where he will make his home. The trip was made in an ambulance.

BEARCATS TO BE NEW TEAM

NEW LINE-UP AND NEW SPIRIT IS INDICATED.

A BACKFIELD CHANGE

Eerst and "Fat" Lewis May Start There, While O'Banion May Be Tried At Center.

Maryville football fans are destined to witness something out of the ordinary tomorrow afternoon when the State Teachers College Bearcats meet the Irish of St. Benedicts College on the local gridiron. That something different will be a much-altered Bearcat line-up, if the team continues in the form in which it has been running all week in practice.

And the whole thing hinges on a pact formed Monday afternoon between H. Frank Lawrence and Paul Jones, coaches, and their football squad. For Monday afternoon the slate was wiped clean. Past victories and past defeat were forgotten, and the coaches started out to mould a new football team. The pact agreed upon was that the eleven men who played best in practice this week would start the game tomorrow.

That's the big reason that there seems to be an extraordinary something in store for the fans.

There is a possibility, of course, that the starting eleven of tomorrow will be the same as that of previous games. But no one knows. Even "Shorty" Lawrence claims that the lucky "natural" is unknown to him.

There has been a big shake-up this week, but it has been a friendly one. Each man has been playing with a renewed energy, and many have been the changes of line-up.

For example, "Red" Berst, regular end, and "Fat" Lewis, 210 pound tackle, may be found in the starting backfield, and Harold Miller, back, may be on an end. And there is a bare possibility that "Bun" O'Banion, backfield man, may be found in the center position.

One of the most welcome announcements of the season came this morning when it was said that there is a possibility that Capt. Dave Eads will be in his regular left halfback position. Eads has been out for three weeks with an injured shoulder, but today he reported to Coach Lawrence that he was feeling fit again.

The St. Benedicts team, coached by Larry Quigley, will likely arrive in Maryville on the noon train tomorrow, and will depart on the afternoon train.

The Irish are strong. Week before last they held Baker University to a scoreless tie. To quote Lawrence, they are "plenty tough."

The game tomorrow will start at 2:30 o'clock. The officials have not all been chosen yet, and Coach Lawrence will not know for sure who will arbitrate the tussle until late today.

In speaking of the game today, the Bearcat mentor said:

"I know what my team didn't do at Kirksville, but why they didn't do it, I can't say. If a change in the line-up will produce the same effect in a game that it has produced in practice this week, then I know the boys will have a great deal more 'zipper.'

"The team will have to play football to win from St. Benedicts. I am confident that they will win."

Squad of Eighteen to Invade Cameron

M. H. S. Coaches Name Boys Who Will Make Trip.—Keever to Bear Brunt In Backfield.

Coaches C. W. Croy and Hugh Graham will leave tomorrow morning for Cameron with eighteen members of the Maryville High School football squad, where they will encounter, in the estimation of Croy, the hardest game of the season. The team will make the trip by car. They plan to leave about 7 o'clock to get to Cameron in ample time to give the boys time for plenty of rest.

"Cameron has a splendid team. They have won all of the games they have played this season. They expect to beat Maryville. But I'm counting on my boys to change the Cameron notion," Coach Croy said. Despite the loss of a backfield star, the Spoofhound prospects are declared as good as ever. Keever, who was the Star of the game with Trenton last Friday on the college gridiron, is expected to carry the brunt of the game tomorrow afternoon. "Red" Kissinger will not make the trip to Cameron, as he is not on the eligibility list.

Those who will make the trip are: L. Smith, F. Nichols, B. Thompson, C. New, G. Hall, E. Howard, F. Fisher, J. Sorrie, W. Alsup, G. McMurray, V. Mumma, J. Alsup, S. Bush, J. Stanfield, H. Wilson, R. Keever, K. Swinford, F. Howard.

When the football season opened at the Maryville High School early in September there were forty-two who reported for football practices. Today that number has decreased to twenty-four. Subs have been dropping out all along.

Rev. Cooper to Head College, Keep Church

Sioux Falls Congregation Agrees To Give Him Time For Presidency By Associate Pastor.

The following clipping from a Sioux Falls, S. D., of a recent date tells of the election of the Rev. Joseph A. Cooper, formerly of Maryville, to the presidency of the Sioux Falls College:

At a meeting of the board of trustees of Sioux Falls College, called here Friday, Rev. Joseph A. Cooper, pastor of the First Baptist church, was unanimously elected to the presidency of the college.

As early as last spring the trustees were in touch with Mr. Cooper with the presidency in mind, but at that time he did not see his way clear to accept the responsibility. Since coming to Sioux Falls, however, the opportunity before the college has made such an appeal to Mr. Cooper that he has been persuaded to reopen the matter of assembling its leadership.

At a largely attended business meeting Wednesday night the First Baptist church carefully considered the request of the executive committee of the board of trustees and consented to release Mr. Cooper for the major portion of his time in order that he might become the president of that institution.

The plan is that Mr. Cooper will continue as pastor of the First Baptist church, having charge of the services and heading up the program. The church will secure an associate pastor who will have particular charge of religious education and the detail work of the pastorate.

Mr. Cooper holds an A. B. degree from Missouri state university and an A. M. degree from the University of Chicago, and has done considerable graduate work at William Jewell college and at Rochester Theological Seminary. He entered the World war in 1917 as a regimental chaplain with the rank of a lieutenant and came out as senior chaplain of an army corps with the rank of captain. For three years Mr. Cooper was pastor of the First Baptist church of Maryville, Mo., the home of the Northwest Missouri State Teachers College, and following his pastorate there spent two years lecturing throughout the country on the Redpath circuits. It was on one of these lecture tours that he made his first contact with Sioux Falls, which has resulted in his assumption of the position of dual leadership in the city.

Mr. Cooper succeeds Dr. Fred G. Boughton, who resigned June 4, and has since taken up his new work as associate professor of philosophy at Denison university, Granville, O. Following Dr. Boughton's departure the board of trustees named Dean A. W. Fauquet as president ad interim.

Keep Fit!

Good Health Requires Good Elimination

TO be well, you must keep the blood stream free from impurities. If the kidneys lag, allowing body poisons to accumulate, a toxic condition is created. One is apt to feel dull, languid, tired and achy. A nagging backache is sometimes a symptom, with drowsy headaches and dizzy spells. That the kidneys are not functioning properly is often shown by burning or scanty passage of secretions. If you have reason to suspect improper kidney functioning, try Doan's Pills—a tested stimulant diuretic. Users praise them throughout the United States. Ask your neighbor!

MRS. BASSETT ALWAYS TIRED

Now in Good Health by Using Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Lansing, Michigan.—"I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound whenever I needed it. When I first used it I was so bad I could hardly walk across the room without crying. I was tired all the time. I think my trouble was coming on me for six months before I realized it. I read of your wonderful medicine in the paper, and * * * my husband bought me a bottle, and after the first few doses I felt better, so kept on taking it until I was well and strong. I take it at times when I feel tired and it helps me. I will always have a good word for your medicine and tell anyone what good it has done me. I recommended it to my neighbor for her girl, who is sixteen years old, and it was just what she needed. She is feeling fine now, and goes to school every day."—Mrs. E. F. Bassett, 216 South Hayford Avenue, Lansing, Michigan.

Do not continue to feel all run-down and half sick when Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is sold by druggists everywhere. It is a root and herb medicine and has been used by women for over fifty years.

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE.

JUDITH MARTIN, young, red-haired, beautiful, arriving to teach in Pendleton University meets an earnest man who rescues her bandbox on the train, but refuses to enter into conversation with her.

As she steps from the train at Pendleton station, a strange young man giant, green-eyed, seizes her, kisses her and without a word thrusts her into a taxi and vanishes.

She meets black-haired MYRA ALDRICH in her boarding house. Myra is violently in love with one ERIC WALTERS.

Judith avoids the kisser on the campus and in faculty meeting, makes the acquaintance of Dr. Peter Dorn, astronomy professor, who as a stranger had helped her with her hatbox on the train.

In a tea shop with Judith, Myra hears that Watters has kissed a girl at the station, on a bet. She rushes home, followed by Judith, and has a fit of tears.

Learning from the college catalog that Judith is a teacher, Myra goes into a tantrum, accusing Judith of deceiving her into making confidences.

Eric signs up for Judith's Horace class, not knowing she is a teacher. They leave the library together on registration day.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

The next day was registration day.

Long lines of students stretched from the doors of the administration building across the entire quadrangle. Another throng was in the library, where courses were to be selected and study cards given out.

Judith found Dr. Pearson, a mild-eyed man in charge of the ancient language department, standing near the door of the library conference room.

"Ah, Miss Martin! I have been looking for you. I wanted to ask you whether you were willing to take one class in Horace. We seldom give such an advanced course to a young teacher, but the illness of Dr. Simpson makes it necessary for someone to take it at least till Christmas. I've no doubt of your competence."

Judith smiled. "I think I can handle it. I'll be glad of the chance."

The morning wore away. Crowds of bewildered freshmen were herded into the room at intervals of 15 minutes, carrying torn fee receipts and crumpled study cards in hot, sticky hands.

Judith explained the difference between biology and zoology, outlined the credit system and persuaded freshmen not to cry for the senior course in Shakespere.

At noon the doors were closed and someone brought sandwiches and cold drinks for the weary men and women around the advisor's tables. As Judith was sipping her lemonade, Dr. Pearson brought her a pack of study cards with the names of those in her Horace class. She laid them aside for the afternoon and returned to her work.

Five hours later she picked up the cards and ran through them. Suddenly she stopped, looked closely at the card in her hand and began to grin broadly. As luck would have it, she met Eric Waters leaving the building at supper time. For the first time, she gave him a smile.

"Howdy," he said. "Your courses all straightened out?"

well satisfied. I believe I'll have a lot of fun out of Horace II."

Eric fell into step with her. "You taking it? Bully! I'm taking it too."

CHAPTER V.

"Congrats!" said someone. Judith and Eric looked up, just as Will Wetherel reached them, clad in full riding regalia and flicking the hedge top with an elaborate leather crop. He was smiling at Eric paternally.

"Hello," said Eric, cooly. "And to what do I owe your kind felicitations?"

Will raised pained eyebrows. "Well, really, you know, that seems a bit thick. Yesterday you spike Sig Psi, and today you ask why I congratulate you."

Eric thrust his hands in his pockets. "Oh, my error, I'm sure. I got the idea somewhere that it was the fraternity that should be congratulated. Perhaps I was misled by the salty tears of your rush captain as he pleaded with me not to turn him down, and the curses of the Phi Delts, as they skulked away in defeat."

Wetherel looked mystified. "More of that famous wit of yours. I suppose, but I'll give you a tip. The brothers won't care for those sentiments."

Eric listened in mock humility. "So sorry, old man. It was that sniffling rush captain who was to blame. He said the frat would go into a decline and flicker out, if I so much as looked at any other fraternity. I see now that I shouldn't have believed him."

Wetherel turned a cold shoulder on Eric and looked under the brim of Judith's hat for the first time. "You might introduce me, Eric,—why, it's Miss—er—"

Eric smiled. "Yes, that's my trouble too. I haven't learned her name. Perhaps you'll have better luck.

Wetherel recovered quickly. "I know her name. It's Judith Martin. I was just astonished to see her with you. Didn't know you knew her."

Eric smiled loftily and the three walked on together.

Wetherel was evidently bent on jarring Eric's cold self-assurance. "Nice little ducking party given for you yesterday, wasn't it?" he said. "Next time I fancy you'll find some other place except the sacred mounds to lie and meditate on. Didn't you know better?"

Eric shrugged. "I haven't any traffic with your silly fetishes. I reasoned that no better place could be found for scholarly meditation."

They were approaching the Prairie Schooner tea shop, when Wetherel spoke again. "Say, Waters, what about that $20 kiss? Don't you think you ought to stand treat on the proceeds? Miss Martin would like a fudge Sundae and I could use a malted milk. But what I want to know is, did you earn the $20, or was the kiss clear profit? Nobody seems to know just what the girl was like."

He had slipped his arm through Judith's and was gently guiding her and Eric toward the tea shop door. But she pulled away from him.

"I'm sorry," she said, very low. "I must go home."

She walked quickly away, leaving them staring after her. Her face was still flaming when she saw just ahead of her a stooped figure in gray tweeds, beside which trotted a gaunt police dog.

Judith was about to turn aside, but Dr. Dorn had seen her and hurried to meet her. The conversation began with commonplaces about the work of registration day, the caliber of this year's student body and the number of classes each was to have. Judith's embarrassment gradually ebbed away and she talked blithely enough to the rather sober-faced professor.

Just before they reached her street, Dr. Dorn gasped a little and stammered out, "You must have thought me a very remiss Romeo the other day, Miss Martin. I've walked the earth so long with my eyes on the stars and a field glass in my hand that I've stumbled past the little graces and gallantries of this world."

Judith laughed a bantering laugh. "Aha! Astronomy is your only love—the world well lost for a comet's streaming hair and all that. But don't you think you're missing a lot?" Then she turned abruptly from the topic. "Tell me, what kind of a man is Dean Timothy Brown?"

"A very able man," Dr. Dorn responded, without hesitation. "I imagine there's no scholar in the world who knows so much about the decline and fall of Rome. As a general historian, he is very good, but that period in his specialty. He means to write a book about the degeneracy of Rome that will put Gibbon off the map. He is also interested in those features of modern life which are similar to the dissipation which proceeded the fall of the Empire."

"Um-m-m," said Judith. "A specialist in human degeneracy. Well—" she looked brightly up at him—"I don't think I like Dean Timothy Brown."

Dr. Dorn looked distressed. "Don't make snap judgments, Miss Martin. I know he talked too long at the meeting yesterday, and sometimes I think he is rather harsh in his indictments of the new generation. But he is a worthy man, and a fighter for the right."

"Um-m-m," said Judith again, noncommittally.

"What I'd like to know," said Caroline McGonigle, as she poured a river of catsup over the wooden meat loaf, "is why the rules should be so strictly enforced in this house, when every other landlady in town will listen to reason. Doors closed at ten-thirty! And the first violation punished by a report to the dean! I never heard of such a thing."

Miss Stedway had retired to the kitchen to learn why the sad-faced young men had failed to return with the bread platters.

"Sh! Carrie," exclaimed someone softly. "She's right behind that swinging door listening. I'll bet a cooky."

"What do I care?" sniffed Caroline. "Eavesdroppers never heard good of themselves."

The door swung open almost instantly, and Lillian Stedway entered with the bread plate, her usually pale cheeks very red.

Caroline nodded "I told you so" to the assembled company, as she passed the bread to Judith.

Miss Stedway stood at the head of the table. "My mother wishes me to say," she announced sulkily, "that there must be no noise in the house after seven-thirty on week nights, or after eleven on Saturday nights. This rule will be strictly enforced. Moreover, when once the doors have been locked at ten-thirty, they will not be opened for latecomers." She sat down, in the midst of a great silence, and the girls hurried through the meal.

Judith climbed the stairs wearily. A box of books from her home had been delivered that day, and she went in search of a hammer to pry out the nails. When she came back, she found Lillian Stedway seated gingerly on the edge of a straight chair by the door.

"I just dropped in a minute," said the caller, nervously, "to tell you how glad we are to have you with us. My mother thinks that having a faculty member in the house may help to keep the girls down. They're very hard to manage sometimes."

Judith's lips were grim. She sat down beside the express box and began to jerk the nails as though Miss Stedway were not present.

Lillian Stedway looked at her a moment, and then went on with determination. "My mother hopes you will be as helpful as you can in the matter of discipline," she said. "You will be able to observe more infractions of the rules than we can, from our rooms downstairs. By reporting them, you can help us a great deal."

There was silence.

"Your position on the faculty rather requires it, you know," said Miss Stedway, almost defiantly.

Judith laid her hammer down and raised her head. "This might as well be a final understanding, Miss Stedway. I was engaged by the university not as a policeman, but as a teacher. While I live in your house it is my home, and in my home I am neither teacher nor policeman, and certainly not a spy. I'm sorry to disappoint you, but you must count me out of these disciplinary activities."

Lillian Stedway rose from her chair, stammering. "Oh, if you feel that way—" She was edging toward the door.

"I do—exactly," said Judith, and went on pounding.

A door bell rang a little later, and Judith heard someone call up the stairs, "Myra, here's your date." The door across the hall opened and French heels clicked down the stairs.

Judith tugged at the box until it yielded, unpacked her books, and then sat back, stretching wearily.

She made ready for bed, brushing her hair in leisurely fashion, and went through the countless little rites that women consider necessary before retirement. At eleven, she crept into bed and was sound asleep in less than five minutes.

It seemed that she had been asleep for many hours when something startled her awake. She lay staring into the darkness for a moment, until the sound that had awaked her came again. It was at the open window near the foot of her bed.

The hand that she stretched out for her dressing gown shook slightly, but she pulled the robe around her and began to creep toward the window.

As she reached it, a bright shaft from the street lamp fell upon the face of a man standing on the balcony and peering into the room.

"You!" gasped Judith. She caught at the window frame.

"Lord!" cried Eric Waters. "I didn't know it was you."

(To Be Continued).

Judith is invited to the fall party of the mysterious but beautiful Eve Gerhart. And Eric, as Judith was to learn much later, was seen on his Romeo-like climb up the balcony.

Japan Sends Money to Aid in Florida Relief

Nippon Remembers Assistance Given By U. S. In Tokyo Earthquake And Fire.

Japan, remembering the help extended this country by the United States at the time of the Tokyo earthquake and fire, has sent a gift of 86,300 yen, approximately $43,150, to the American National Red Cross for aid in rehabilitating victims of the Florida hurricane.

This sum represents contributions from 40,000 Japanese in all walks of life, made through the Chugai Shogyo Shimpo, Journal of International Commerce of Japan. Many of the contributors were themselves sufferers in the earthquake. Kyujiro Yanado, president of the journal, transmitted the money to the American Red Cross through Ambassador Tsuneo Natsudafra.

During the week immediately following the hurricane Ambassador Matsudaira made a personal contribution of $500 to the relief fund and Japan offered to launch a popular drive for funds but was advised that this would not be necessary. Consequently the gift was a total surprise.

President Coolidge, President of the American Red Cross, and Acting Chairman James L. Fieser both have conveyed to Japan the gratitude and appreciation of the American people.

Pat Farrens, living east of Maryville, returned last night from Rochester, Minn., where he had taken Mrs. Farrens for an operation for appendicitis and gall bladder. He says Mrs. Farrens' condition is improving very slowly.

BEWARE THE COUGH OR COLD THAT HANGS ON

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (Adv.)

"ALONG GOOD WILL HIGHWAY"

Make your trip to market faster and smoother!

Give your car a chance to give you all the power it has

THE earlier you get to market, the better your profits. The smoother your car runs, the better your humor!

Fast, smooth motor car operation depends to a great extent on the lubricating oil you have in your crankcase. You must use not only good oil—but the correct grade of good oil to fit the degree of wear in your engine.

If your car is new you should use a certain grade. If it has run 2,000 miles you probably need a different grade. At 12,000 miles still a different grade. Because the farther your car is driven, the more wear there is in the engine—and it takes a heavier-bodied oil to seal the power in the cylinders.

That is the basis on which Sinclair Opaline Motor Oil is made and sold. It is—common sense—and set down in this Sinclair Law of Lubrication:—

"For every machine, of every degree of wear, there is a scientific Sinclair Oil to suit its speed and seal its power."

This is important—it is worth thinking about—worth talking over with your neighbor who sells Sinclair Oil. Tell him your mileage and he will be glad to show you how easy it is to apply the correct grade of Sinclair Opaline Motor Oil to your car.

Closing Grain Review.

Chicago, Nov. 4.—Wheat and oats displayed real strength on the Board of Trade here today, closing well above yesterday's final levels, while corn continued to sag.

Wheat closed ⅝ to 1 cent higher. The market was unsettled early in the day but sold off under pressure from locals, the East and Northwest. Cash prices were steady to 1 cent higher.

Liquidations forced corn to new lows on the crop, the close being ½ to ⅝ cent lower. Spot prices were 1 cent lower.

With Winnipeg oats a full cent higher than yesterday, this cereal began to assert its strength. The close here was ⅛ cent up in all positions. Cash values were ½ to 1 cent higher.

Provisions closed lower.

How She Gained 10 Pounds in 22 Days

That's going some—but skinny men, women and children just can't help putting on good, healthy flesh when they take McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets.

As chock full of vitamines as the nasty, fish-tasting cod liver oil itself, but these sugar coated, tasteless tablets are as easy to take as candy, and won't upset the stomach.

One woman gained ten pounds in twenty-two days. 60 tablets, 60 cents. Ask Gaugh & Evans or any druggist for McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets and if you don't gain at least 5 pounds in 30 days your druggist is authorized to hand you back the money you paid for them.

40 YEARS IN PUBLIC LIFE

HAWES HAS HAD A BUSY POLITICAL CAREER.

NATIVE KENTUCKIAN

Educated At Washington University, St. Louis—Member Of Police Commissioners At 29.

St. Louis, Nov. 4.—Election of Harry B. Hawes as Junior United States Senator from Missouri climaxed a busy career of nearly 40 years of public life.

Born in Covington, Ky., Nov. 15, 1869 and coming to St. Louis at the age of 18, Hawes remained in the political spotlight almost continuously since.

He was educated in the public schools of Kentucky, receiving his law degree from Washington University in St. Louis in 1896. Almost immediately he proved to older heads his qualifications for leadership. At the age of 29, the late Gov. Lon. V. Stephens appointed him a member of the St. Louis Board of Police Commissioners. At that time he was the youngest man ever to hold membership on the board.

In 1901 Gov. Dockery reappointed him, at which time he was elected president of the board. It was during Hawes' incumbency that police salaries were increased and the number of patrolmen raised from 600 to 900. It was also during his tenure as president of the board that Hawes became important politically.

He organized the Jefferson Club, made up of every important St. Louis Democrat and was credited with having engineered the two successive elections of Rolla Wells as mayor of St. Louis. Hawes became a candidate for governor in 1904 but was defeated. It was at this time that his name was mentioned in connection with the turbulent career of Col. Ed Butler, St. Louis politician. Hawes is declared to have been the man who single handed shattered Butler's political machine.

Hawes attracted much favorable attention by his Missouri "Hard Roads Fight." After a great deal of work he managed to iron out the political wrinkles in the bill to safe guard the spending of $60,000,000 for Missouri highways, and the bill was passed. Before entering congress, Hawes especially sponsored bills in the legislature for road legislation, home rule on police matters for cities of the first class, protection of dogs through the license system and the conservation and preservation of birds and game in Missouri.

Since his election to congress Hawes, as an active member of the Izaak Walton league, secured the passage of a measure, by which, swamp land may be obtained by the federal government as a bird and game preserve. In addition to his humanitarian efforts to preserve our game and animal resources, Hawes is known as an orator of parts and a hospitable entertainer. He possesses an enviable ability to make staunch and true friends and it is this gift together with his sterling record as a congressman that won for him the greatest political preferment the state can bestow.

Potatoes Are Dug For Pat Farrens

Several neighbors dug potatoes yesterday for Pat Farrens, who has been at Rochester, Minn., for some time at the bedside of Mrs. Farrens, who underwent an operation two weeks ago. Doctors have advised Mr. Farrens that she is not yet out of danger and that he should not return home for several days.

Those who dug the potatoes were Joe and George Wilmes, D. Callahan, Lemuel and W. S. Watkins and Everett Wray.

Court Has Several Absentee Ballots

The county court was not in session today but will meet tomorrow when the judges will canvass the vote cast in Tuesday's election. Several absentee ballots have been received by Fred W. Smith, county clerk, and the time limit will expire on Friday noon.

The court tomorrow will consider the proposition of advertising for a 150 foot bridge west of Conception.

Council Meets Tonight.

The City Council will meet again tonight to consider, according to Mayor W. O. Garrett, a few matters of routine nature which the body was unable to dispose of at the regular monthly meeting Monday night.

Mrs. Paul Ream of Kansas City returned home this afternoon after a ten days visit with her brother, Joseph Jackson, and family, and her sister, Mrs. J. F. Colby.

Executive Board.

The members of the Executive board of the Red Cross will meet at the Red Cross headquarters at 7:30 o'clock tonight.

Not just because it took a whole year to make—not because 14 great players were chosen to support Milton Sills—not because the entire company went into one of the nation's greatest mills and there suffered hardships and privations to get this story for you. No, not just because it stands out as the most daring undertaking in cinema achievements today—BUT because beneath the heat and turmoil of its tremendous story—while the vapor rises and the white hot steel overflows you realize the most touching drama of love and courage ever written.
